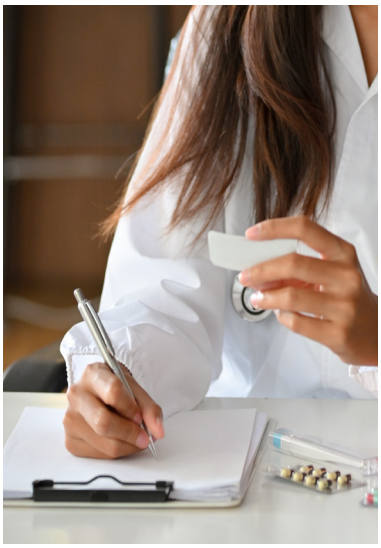
$713 Million Available across 2 CURRENT PHARMACEUTICAL SETTLEMENT OPPORTUNITIES

There are several lawsuits and class action settlements that may provide recovery opportunities for employers and other entities that pay prescription drug and related healthcare costs.

Depending on the case, allegations may involve inflated drug prices, anti-competitive practices, or costs associated with prescription opioids and related treatment.

Multiple opportunities may be available at the same time, with eligibility and requirements varying by settlement.



ALLEGED BEHAVIOR

The lawsuits allege that payors and other entities incurred increased prescription drug and related healthcare costs.
